To face Elliott

Bennett topples Carver

BY JAKE JACOB

Larry J. Bennett of Bay St. Louis handily defeated his opponent, incumbent Warren Carver, in his bid to qualify as Democratic nominee for mayor of that city on Tuesday in the second primary.

Bennett now faces veteran politician Russell J. Elliott, former president of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, in the city's general election slated for June 7.

In the only other race Tuesday, Peter J. Benvenuti out-pollied his opponent Donald M. Favre, by a count of 288 to 212, to serve as Democratic councilman from District 1.

The only Democrat to face a clear ballot next month will be Harry J. Favre, Democratic candidate elect from District 3. All other candidates face challenge from Republicans, Independents, or both.

In Tuesday's second primary, the votes for Bennett were:

District 1 - 248
District 2 - 316
District 3 - 255

District 4 - 343
Total - 1162

Carver's totals were:
District 1 - 251

Randolph seeks lease policy

Supervisors vote timber route for 16th section land revenue

Sixteen Section lands not currently under lease in Hancock County are to be turned over the the Mississippi Forestry Commission for conversion to timber lands. Profits from the sale of such timber will be used by the county school system for the benefit of its pupils.

The decision to switch from a current mixed bag of leases to a steady timber sale income came following a presentation of proposed Sixteen Section and Lieu Land lease policies by Superintendent of Education Terrell Randolph on Monday to his county supervisors.

Randolph said the courthouse and county agencies telephone bill per month exceeded the total income of Sixteenth Section and Lieu Lands for an entire year.

"We know the Sixteenth Section grossly inadequate fee system amounts to a donation of public lands.

"Public land cannot be donated to any one individual," Randolph allowed.

Warming to his subject, Randolph told the supervisors that the lands concerned are held in trust for the children of the state and the county by the supervisors and the school board.

"These lands must be administered for the benefit of the children and the schools they attend," Randolph said.

He said that 90 people hold leases on the lands concerned in Hancock County.

Twenty-thousand people are paying higher taxes because 90 residents are paying so little on these lands," Randolph claimed.

Supervisor prexy Alton A. Kellar took exception to a portion of Randolph's proposals asking if they represented his opinion or ideas or if he was presenting a set of policies approved by his board (Hancock County School Board).

Randolph replied to the effect that he was experiencing difficulty with both his board and the supervisors in getting them to reach any form of agreement concerning the Sixteenth Section and Lieu Land leasing dispute.

He said, "Even as a private citizen I have the authority to give recommendations concerning Sixteenth Section lands."

The exchange of words between Kellar and Randolph centered over a section of his proposal concerning agricultural leases.

Here at issue was the length of lease a factor shortened under the Randolph proposals to some five years from the present 15, 25, or longer agreements.

"All agricultural leases throughout the state are based on a five year tenure, after which the property is reappraised."

"Agricultural leases are the only type that show a profit to the county school system," the superintendent said.

Board Attorney Sam Favre then said he considered the better thing to do would be to discourage any leases other than timber as such would bring the better profit in the long run.

Randolph agreed with the thought adding that since all the publicity had been cast on the situation he had received some 40 new applications for the lands.

These, he said, he was holding until he could get some firm policy from the supervisors.

Calling on the supervisors to make a determination on the issue, Randolph asked them to "... come up with a policy ..."

Discourse then arose concerning the

CHARLES WILLIAMS tells about battling the big guys

Many of my close friends and customers have asked how it's possible for me to compete with all the major brand gas stations that are owned or controlled by the big oil companies. The answer is simple: I buy directly from a big independent oil company... Murphy Oil.

Now, Murphy Oil is not nearly as big as Shell, Exxon, Texaco, Mobil and the other huge international oil companies... but Murphy Oil is no small potatoes, either!

Murphy Oil is an independent company that's a leader in off-shore drilling, undersea exploration, and produces oil around the world. They also operate their own refineries to make gasoline for us independent dealers who sell Spur gas.

Nice thing about Murphy Oil being big, (but not too big) is that they make a top quality gasoline and sell it directly to me without going through a middleman.

So to my close friends and customers: Don't worry about me. As long as Murphy Oil can help me keep the prices down at the pump by selling to me directly... I'll keep selling you Spur.

According to reports, BSL Fire Chief Greg Richardson was overcome by smoke while fighting the fire. No other injuries were reported.

Church members had voted just last Sunday to renovate the auditorium of the church, but no construction work had started at the time of the fire.

Rev. Barber expressed his appreciation to all those who have help and offered assistance to the church. He gave special thanks to the following for their offers to allow the church to use their facilities for worship: First United Methodist Church in Bay St. Louis and Waveland, Assembly of God, Our Lady of the Gulf, Christ Episcopal, St. Stanislaus and Riemann Funeral Home. No announcement was made as to where the church members will worship during the repair period.

Market to open June 4

Adverse weather conditions throughout Southern Mississippi, has led to the postponement of Hancock County's Farmers Market.

Originally scheduled to open last week, the market is now set to begin on Saturday, June 4.

Sponsored by the Hancock County Fair Association, the Farm Extension Service, and the Mississippi Department of Agriculture, the market will function in the Exhibition Building at Hancock County Fair Grounds.

Farmers intending to participate in the fair reported crops would not be ready for harvest in time for the original opening date due to the impact of heavy rains.

The new date is the same as that of Bay St. Louis' Blessing of the Fleet.

P.D. (Sonny) Bailey, president, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, who made the postponement known said the action was taken after consultation with L.J. Breaux, president, Hancock County Farm Bureau, John Smith, county agent, and with the State Agricultural Department.

"Under the circumstances we have no alternative but to delay our inaugural evening even though it does conflict with the Blessing of the Fleet."

Bailey said Jim Buck Ross, commissioner of agriculture, State of Mississippi, will be on hand for the opening.

Brown signs with UNO

University of New Orleans Athletic Director and Head Basketball Coach Ron Greene has announced that Paul Brown, a 6-4 forward from St. Stanislaus High School, has accepted a grant-in-aid and signed a national letter of intent to join the Privateers for the 1977-78 basketball season.

Brown's 23.4 ppg and 19.2 rpg helped Coach Bob Cucaro's St. Stanislaus Squad to a 17-9 record last season. With those senior year stats, Brown became the first player in the history of the school to break the 1000-career mark in both points (1045) and rebounds (1019).

Brown was an All Conference selection in his last three seasons and was named to the District 13 squad last year. He won the St. Stanislaus defensive award for three consecutive years and was team captain, team MVP and the leading rebounder on the squad in both his junior and senior seasons.

"Paul is an aggressive player with good leaping ability - much like John Carnovale who completed a four-year career with us last season. He is a particularly strong rebounder," Greene explained.

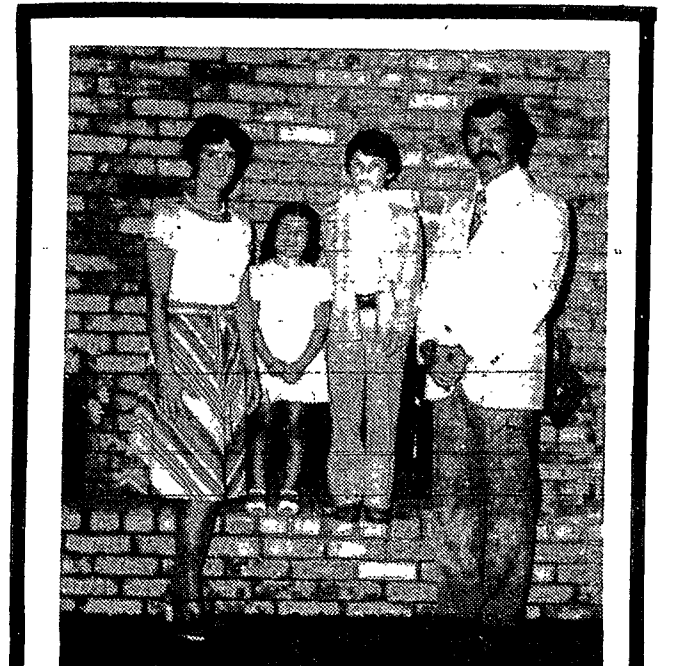

In signing with the Privateers, Brown becomes the sixth recruit to join the UNO program for the coming season. Other newcomers previously signed are: Mike Edwards, a 6-5 guard from Dewitt Clinton High in New York City; rob King, a 6-5 forward from Gulf Coast (FLA) Community College; Bill Tillemma, a 6-5 forward from Central Florida Community College; Hayward

Hewitt, a 6-4 guard-forward from Lake City (FLA) Community College; and Mike Taylor, a 6-2 guard from Scotlandville High School in Baton Rouge.

PAUL BROWN, a Senior Forward with the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chows has signed a basketball grant-in-aid with the University of New Orleans Privateers for the 1977-78 basketball season. Here, SS Basketball Coach Bob Cucaro (R) congratulates Brown and bids him farewell and best wishes for a successful career at UNO.

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce my family to the citizens of the City of Bay St. Louis. Peggy age 26, Ray Jr. age 8, Chari age 5.

Russell J. Elliott

Candidate for the Office of Mayor

Bay St. Louis

RUSSELL J. ELLIOTT outlines his Proposal for an orderly transition of City Government and his Pledges to the People of Bay St. Louis.

Knowing that a sound beginning is most important for the successful future of the operation of our City, I feel my experiences and open door policy with the powers in both Jackson and Washington can be very beneficial.

When I was President of the Board of Supervisors, having spearheaded the reclamation of the entire area, including the cities, following the devastation of Hurricane Camille, I know the tremendous task now facing the elected official in the conversion to the Mayor Council City Government.

With the assistance and cooperation of the elected City Council,

I pledge:

1. To retain all of the present city employees, if they desire, using their experience and knowledge to insure the citizens of Bay St. Louis uninterrupted services, police protection and operative government.
2. To implore the Council to adopt Civil Service Status for these employees so that we will not experience a total disruption every change of administrators. Carefully scrutinizing each person's ability and adaptability to the changes and directives of the Council for permanent employment.
3. Utilize the services of the present elected officials for orientation purposes so, as your Mayor, I will have all details immediately available for presentation to the Council for action.
4. Request a quorum from all law firms for a consensus of the local legal talent to assure the changes of government will be within the framework of the law.
5. Immediately pursue all State and Federal Financial Assistance for the improving of present facilities and programming for the future.
6. Truthfully report all particular details of Official actions, never changing or omitting facts for personal political gains.
7. Due to the spiraling costs of living, strive to trim all wasted monies in an effort to reduce taxes and city service utilities costs. Benefitting all tax payers and especially our Senior Citizens, Low Income Families and pensioned citizens, who are on a fixed income and cannot afford additional costs.
8. Form an advisory committee, composed of citizens from each section of the City so that your section will have personal contact with Government and representation.
9. In order to conform with the will of the people to bring back the government of Bay St. Louis to the Citizens, I will initiate a quarterly public forum, of the Mayor and Council to meet at a public location so that you may voice your opinions and criticism and will incorporate your directives whenever possible.
10. Hold a monthly meeting of employees and the Council so that we may become aware of day to day encounters in line of duty, and to explain the directives of the Council to each employee first hand.
11. Even though we do have one of the finest school systems, a periodic meeting will be scheduled with the school Board & Faculty for coordination with the City for the continued upgrading and expanding of our system, youth programs and the recreational facilities at the schools.
12. In like manner scheduled meetings will be held with the Park & Playground Committee for the general recreational facilities and programs.
13. Immediately promote a permanent drainage and road surfacing program. Work for the completion of City facilities in the annexed areas so as to furnish citizens in those areas the same city facilities for their tax dollars as people in the older area of the City.
14. Inaugurate a city industrial, beautification and promotional program, utilizing all of our natural resources, the assistance of all local civic organizations, business establishments and interested citizens.
15. Under my administration, there will definitely be an open-door policy, whereby any citizen can attend Council Meetings and be recognized for their comments.
16. At all times operate the Office of Mayor and conduct the affairs of our city in a DIGNIFIED and BUSINESSLIKE MANNER. Honor the directives of the Council and furnish the council members full details on each issue for their better consideration and eventual actions.

These are all pledges that can be fulfilled, not idle promises.

NEWER, MODERN AND PROGRESSIVE ACTIONS, along with careful planning, will be my Main Pledges to you. I will appreciate your support and Vote, and be honored to serve as Your Mayor. PLEASE CONSIDER MY QUALIFICATIONS & CANDIDACY FOR MAYOR.

The Editor, Sea Coast Echo,
Bay St. Louis, Ms.

Dear Mr. Whittle,

A CRITICAL ISSUE

The state's role in the administration of school lands (16th section) has been passed into the hands of local authorities with the state serving merely as a service or consultative agency. In most cases, the state has delegated most of its authority and obligations as trustees of 16th section land to the county board of supervisors. The fact still remains that the state (Legislature) is the trustee of these lands and the board of supervisors are the state's agents in administering this trust.

The 16th section lands are a public trust and should be managed for the best interest of the beneficiary of that trust - the school children.

The children of Hancock County Schools have been and are now being cheated of their own rightful revenues because the agents of this land have not assumed their responsibility to produce the maximum revenue for the school children's land. The revenue derived from these lands can be used for constructing, equipping and furnishing school buildings, (cafeterias, restrooms, classrooms, etc.). The interest derived from 16th section investments can be expended for the general operation and maintenance of the school district. Hancock County school recently received $38,116 from a 16th section timber sale. The proceeds from this sale have been earmarked by the Board of Education to build the much needed restrooms facilities onto the Gulfview gymnasium. It may be several years before additional revenue can be derived from another timber sale, so the Board of Education continues to be hamstringing its search for new revenues to finance the educational system of Hancock County.

Besides the revenue collected from timber sales on 16th section lands there are two other means of producing revenue from these same lands. One of which (oil and gas leases) produced a substantial amount while the other (agriculture, homesteads and grazing leases) has not been nearly as productive as it could have been if there had been a firm leasing policy set by the Board of Supervisors. This is not to say or place the blame on the present board. They are not responsible for all of the abuses attached to this land during the past 100 years since the Mississippi Legislature provided for the leasing of school lands during the legislative session of 1818. During the course of this period the land has been mismanaged, and politically abused by the county authorities in search for favors or votes by those leasing these lands.

The present board of supervisors now have the opportunity to do justice for the school children of this county by establishing a new set of leasing policies that will produce maximum revenues for the future welfare of the children that attend the public school system of this county and more than likely provide some future tax relief to the citizens of this county that send their children to private or parochial schools.

No one can be very proud of the record of handling these school lands in the past, but there is no use wasting time now crying over spilled milk. The board of supervisors must begin now and ensure that improvements are made in the future. Past and present leasing practices appear to benefit the lease holder with a much lesser emphasis placed on the benefits to the school children.

As Superintendent of Education, I presented a set of recommendations to the board of supervisors that would produce more and much needed revenue to the Hancock County School System, now and in the future. These recommendations were as follows:

HANCOCK COUNTY PROPOSED 16TH SECTION LEASE POLICIES

Sec. 1 - The statute and laws of Mississippi shall in all events be the paramount consideration and the controlling factor in the leasing of sixteen section lands. In addition to the authority and requirements of law, the policies hereinafter contained, not inconsistent with applicable law, shall be followed. In the event of conflict, the prevailing law shall control.

Sec. 2 - There shall be four (4) categories of land to be leased.

A. AGRICULTURE LEASE

Property suited for row crop farming or pasture on which there is not a homestead.

1) This type of lease should be leased by competitive bids. The leaseholder of record shall have the option of meeting the highest bid received and retaining the use of the property or as an alternative to competitive bidding the land appraisal system as recommended in the homestead lease.

2) Term of lease: Five (5) years.

B. HOMESITE LEASE

Property on which the lessee is residing not to exceed five (5) acres.

1) This type of property shall be appraised exclusive of any buildings or improvements. Leaseholders may renew lease based on 6 percent of the appraised market value.

2) Term of lease: Twenty-Five (25) years

3) Licensed appraisers shall be selected by the Board of Supervisors and 50 percent of appraisal fee shall be paid by lessee and the remaining 50 percent to be paid by the County from 15th section revenues.

4) Appraisals shall be made on all homesites upon renewal.

C. INDUSTRIAL OR COMMERCIAL LEASES

1) Land shall be appraised and leased at 6 percent of fair market value.

2) Term of lease: Twenty-Five (25) years with option to renew lease after land is reappraised.

D. RECREATIONAL LEASES

1) Shall be negotiated between board of supervisors and school board.

2) Term of lease: Twenty-Five (25) years and option for renewal.

Sec. 3 - FORESTRY LAND

Administered by State Forestry Commission

1) Cannot be leased.

2) Superintendent may petition for reclassification of 16th section lands if there is reasonable assurance more revenue may be realized.

The Mississippi statute, as they presently exist, distribute the authority and duties in the management of school lands among various public officials and agencies as follows:

1. BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

1) Makes leases with lessee.

2) Public notice (newspaper) of classification.

2. BOARD OF EDUCATION

1) Approves or disapproves lease agreement between Supervisors and lessee.

3. COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION

1) Keeps a current docket of expiration date of all leases and any extensions of leases.

2) Terminates leases upon payment default.

3) Collects rental fees.

4) Keep current the classifications of land.

4. STATE LAND COMMISSIONER

1) Sale of "lieu lands".

2) Survey and classify school lands.

5. STATE FORESTRY COMMISSION

1) Keep records of each sale and purchase of school lands.

2) Make agreements with Board of Supervisors for forest lands.

Sincerely,
Terrell Randolph
Superintendent
Hancock County
School System

To the Editor of the Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

Having been a citizen of Bay Saint Louis for the past thirty-five years I have found it to be a very interesting and attractive place in which to live. My energies and my efforts have been directed toward community affairs. The worth of a community inspires one to give attention to the religious, social, political and cultural aspects of a community.

I have noted that progress has been made in our community and in our city. There is a bond of unity which points toward good government and fair relationships.

In speaking of government there is no substitute for relationships and for understanding. A question is hereby directed to our City Officials and Election Commissioners:

Is there a possibility of providing instruction to our Election Managers and to offer a course two months prior to the election date? It would help all to function more adequately at the polls. It would be less time consuming and would allow a better performance of duties at the polls.

It was generally observed at the precincts that registration was not up to date. Many voters were forced to "run around in circles" before they were allowed to vote. Some refused to vote due to these discrepancies.

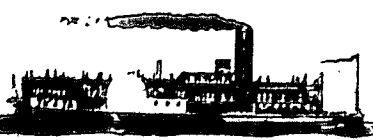

If Voter Registration books were up to date there would be no "ifs, no ands, no buts and no whys" on the part of the voters and voting would be assured.

May I quote? "Ask and it shall be given, knock and the door shall be opened".

The door has been opened, why stand idly by on the threshold and wonder? Enter therein, there is work to be done.

Sincerely,
Geraldine Lang

Whittlin' With Whittle

By JERRY WHITTLE
ECHO MANAGING EDITOR

Well open the can of worms. We did last week and this week guess it's time to sit down to a plate of "crow".

Now we'll say "guess" because we've got several opinions, but maybe we have the right one for you. All this jumping around is leading us to the topic of riding bicycles. We got a lot of folks calling and writing last week when we said you should ride your bike against the traffic instead of with the traffic. That's wrong according to the Mississippi Highway Patrol office. YOU SHOULD RIDE YOUR BIKE WITH THE TRAFFIC. If walking, you should walk against the traffic.

After last week's column, a lady called to ask where we got our information when we said to ride against the traffic. Well the old boy from the hills of Alabama was always taught to ride his bike on the left side of the road facing the traffic. Even got that instruction in school, Boy Scouts and in safety classes. Times have changed and looks like we missed the boat (or bike as the case may be), but we were wrong.

Another gentleman had a good point on the subject. He noted, like we have noticed, that kids seem to ride just about where they please any way and dart from one side to the other at any given time. Now we know that's wrong!

Check this out. We received a post card (a 9 cent post card...we'll get to that subject later) from a gentleman which said:

Dear Mr. Whittle:

Your editorial of May 12 could do a great disservice and be the direct cause of many accidents when you advise children to ride their bicycles against the flow of traffic. I do not argue which is better; with or against, but if the police say with and you say against, you have kids on both sides and a sure accident will follow. At least be consistent with the law, which says a bike is a vehicle and not a pedestrian. Suggest you call police and follow up in a new editorial.

Well, we did just that and found our statement was wrong. But let's give you a little further info on the follow up. We called the Mississippi Highway Patrol office and stated we had a problem which needed a ruling from their department. We asked, "When riding a bicycle, do you ride with or against the traffic?" The lady said you ride against. Well after telling the office staff, we had folks who still could not believe the answer we received. Another call was made and this time we talked with a trooper who quoted from the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol Drivers Hand Book. He corrected the previous statement and told us you ride with the traffic. So you can see there are others who are as confused as we were.

To end this long and drawn out affair, we shall repeat and correct ourselves.

You should ride your bike WITH the traffic.

Would someone please pass the salt? This crow is on the tough side.

True Greatness

A man is as great as the dreams he dreams,
As great as the love he bears;
As great as the values he redeems,
And the happiness he shares.
A man is as great as the thoughts he thinks,
As the worth he has attained;
As the fountains at which his spirit drinks
And the insight he has gained.
A man is as great as the truth he speaks,
As great as the help he gives,
As great as the destiny he seeks,
As great as the life he lives.

C.E. Flynn

Now back to this post card bit. I'm sure we can all remember the days of much cheaper postal rates, no zip code, mailing a letter locally with just "city" instead of "Bay St. Louis, Mississippi". But times change and we all have to adjust our way of thinking and doing. What gets a lot of folks is an announcement this week that we may get another hike in the charge for a stamp and a haul in Saturday delivery. Postmaster General B.F. Ballar says the price of a first-class letter will rise from 13 cents to at least 15 cents. It could be 16 cents if the six-day delivery is maintained. It should be noted this is not final, but is in the mill of things to come in 1978.

HAVE A NICE DAY...and ride right!

Dear Sir:

I wish to compliment Elise Beauchamp on her brilliant and beautiful letter in Re: The Vandals and the Goldfish. She expresses my sentiments very profoundly; only I can't understand why the Editor had to explain about her being "upset." Believe me any civilized rational human being, with a compassionate heart, would most certainly be upset and angry over hearing of such savage cruelty.

The people who commit sadistic acts always pick on helpless defenseless creatures, a sure sign of weak character and cowardice.

We hear and see so much of this destruction and brutality lately. Our religious brethren call it a "sign of the end of time." A prophetic revelation. Some say, Jesus will be coming soon. How soon?

After seeing the 60 minutes program Sunday on Channel 4, he, Jesus, certainly would be quite welcome.

Washington Report

HOUSING AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT ACT

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The Housing and Community Development Act was before the House this past week, and it's bill that affects all of the cities, towns and communities in our Nation. Basically it has always been a pretty good program, particularly since the Department of Housing and Urban Development adopted the block grant approach to funding. Block grants enable our cities and towns to administer the funds themselves in whatever way they think necessary to improve our communities. The Act has always provided funds for this basic need: the betterment of our living conditions, and that is a good thing for us all.

Unfortunately this year HUD tried to sneak one by on us in the form of a formula change in funding. What this means is that the criteria for distribution of funds was different under this year's formula. What it meant for us was a smaller portion of the funds for Mississippi. In the new plan, the age of the community and its buildings was the most important factor.

In the past, poverty and population have been weighed more heavily, but this year, they were secondary to this age factor. The new formula resulted in big gains to the "city states" which have old cities with declining populations. It was weighted heavily toward the northeast and central states, and did very little for the South or the western areas of our nation.

I felt that this was wrong, and I was set to vote against the bill as it was proposed. The community development block grant program has, in the past, been very good to Mississippi.

Some of our small towns have received as much as a million dollars in the past four to five years, and it has always been a program that I've supported. This year though I just couldn't support the spending of nearly $6.275 billion over the next three years for something that wouldn't be fair in its distribution of funds.

Happily, however, after two days of debate and amendment on the Floor of the House, an amendment was passed which would give relief to the smaller cities and towns and our rural communities. At least 25 percent of the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development's "discretionary fund" - money which she can allocate as she sees necessary in the Nation - must now go to these smaller cities and towns. Before this amendment passed, Mississippi would have been one of the three biggest losers in the Nation under the program. Now, however, our rural communities will be better taken care of, and in the end, I voted for the authorization.

I think this is important because of the role the housing industry plays in our Nation's economy. The housing industry has been lagging for the last 4-5 years, suffering severely from the recession. This year, however, housing starts have increased substantially for the first time, and it looks like the industry will make gains. So in many ways the Housing and Community Development Act is a positive force in our Nation; not only does it improve our living conditions, it helps stimulate the economy through the private sector. It will help the people of Mississippi, and so the benefits outweigh the cost of the program.

Senate Bill 2814

During the 1977 Legislative Session, Senate Bill 2814 was passed and approved by the Governor which requires that upon every outdoor advertising sign, display or device, along Mississippi's Interstate and Primary highways, the name of the owner must be posted, if the owner is not the landowner.

Highway Department Assistant Chief Engineer, Bob Hollimon, said that according to the law if a sign is not posted with the owners name the Department will consider the sign as belonging to the property owner.

The new law takes effect July 1, 1977 and applies to those advertising signs, displays or devices erected or maintained next to any highway constituting a part of the Interstate or Primary highway system.

Information was released on March 15, 1977 saying owners of illegal signs adjacent to Interstate and Primary highways are being notified to remove the signs.

The release pointed out that all advertising signs erected within view of an Interstate or Primary highway are subject to control. Illegal signs are those that have been erected without a permit since passage of the law in 1966.

The procedure the Commission is following, according to regulations, is to notify the sign owners and property owners that their signs are illegal and give them 30 days for removal.

Economic Council to seek state government reform

Effective government organization and wise use of tax dollars will be sought by the Mississippi Economic Council's State and Local Government Committee during the coming year.

The panel - chaired by Gloster attorney Walker J. Carney, Jr. - will study the management and distribution of federal funds coming to Mississippi, along with reviewing possibilities in government reorganization.

The group will launch its work at MEC's general assembly in Jackson May 25. Six of the Council's seven general committees will meet that day at the Holiday Inn Downtown.

"There are many millions of federal dollars coming into the state each year," said Carney. "We want to be sure that those dollars are being spent to improve services and the quality of life of Mississippians."

The structure of government on several levels will be reviewed by the MEC committee, Carney said.

"We are going to look at government organization on three different fronts. First, of course, will be continued support for state government reorganization. We are optimistic that the Joint Legislative Study Committee dealing with that area will produce a solid plan for handling this problem," Carney said.

"Our committee will also study the feasibility of combining the circuit and chancery courts. There has been some discussion of potential benefits of such a move; and realizing there are strong differences of opinion on this subject, we are going to see if those benefits are real or imagined," he said.

The committee will also work to assure effective government at the local level, Carney said.

Boaters beware

The Mississippi Boat and Water Safety Commission warns state boaters that fire is the leading cause of property damage to boats. A water patrol spokesman warns that gasoline vapors are heavier than air and will not rise and dissipate like some gases. Thus, these vapors may be trapped in enclosed compartments such as bilges or gas tank boxes and the slightest spark may cause an explosion.

Mississippi law requires that inboard, inboard-outboard and outboard engines, with enclosed fuel tanks, be equipped with a natural or a mechanical means of ventilation. Also, that the carriage of approved marine fire extinguishers be in accordance with U.S. Coast Guard regulations.

Persons interested in becoming a better boater are encouraged to enroll in the free correspondence course offered by the Mississippi Boat and Water Safety Commission. The course may be obtained by writing the Commission at 720 N. President St., Jackson, MS 39202.

Changing inequities

As Mississippi lawmakers move to study the structure and financing of the state's highway department, they would be wise to revise the method of distributing certain tax revenues to the counties.

Much of the road funds counties receive comes from three sources - the state petroleum excise tax, state aid road funds, and federal secondary road allotments. But, the method of distributing those funds is of dubious wisdom.

Three counties in the state receive funds from those sources totaling in excess of $100 per person, per year. In contrast, three other counties garner less than $7.50 per county resident, per year. There are many inequities in the distribution of those funds among the other counties.

As a result, the less populous counties have the opportunity to build better roads for fewer people, while the larger counties - which supply a large percentage of the funds - are left with smaller amounts per person.

While the county population may not be the lone method for determining a "fair share," the inequities indicate a problem. The basic formula for distributing the state aid and federal secondary funds was devised in 1950 - almost 30 years ago. Mississippi has certainly changed in the years since the percentage for each county was set.

The joint legislative study committee examining the highway department should review the method of distributing those funds. It is not fair for the larger counties to carry the smaller counties through inequitable distribution of petroleum excise taxes. The counties should be willing to provide funds through local support, such as the ad valorem tax, instead of relying on gas tax funds generated by other counties.

BSL Little League season dedicated to Mrs. Tudury

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
The Bay St. Louis Little League season started Saturday with a kick off parade led by North Bay and Waveland Elementary Marching Band under the direction of Alfred Sheppard, band director. The parade wound through the streets of Bay St. Louis after assembly at Bay Junior High to the McDonald Field.

A. A. "Dolph" Kellar, president of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, threw out the first ball and Rev. Nathan Barber of First Baptist Church, Bay St. Louis, gave the invocation. As the North Bay and Waveland Elementary Band played the National Anthem, the American Flag was presented by Edward Murtagh representing American Legion Post 139, Bay St. Louis. Little League president Don Murray told the crowd that this year's season would be dedicated to Mrs. Mae Tudury, the organizer of the Bay St. Louis Little League. Other league officers for this season are Ronnie Murray, vice president, John Rossetti, treasurer, Madline Pendergrast, secretary, Woody Pierce, player agent and Rowe Crowder, safety officer.

Mrs. Tudury said in an interview that she was very appreciative of the league dedicating this season in her honor. She said that in 1954 or 1955 she, her son, Theo Tudury, Jr., and an Air Force Lieutenant from Keesler, with the help of others got the league started. There were no funds for the league, such as are today, and she went door to door to business places for donations and also to anyone that would give her money or assistance. The Lieutenant gave her almost four dozen bats, catcher equipment and a few gloves, her son, a coach, helped with the coaching. Coast Electric and Hardin Shattuck set up the poles for lights. Mrs. Tudury said she is very grateful for the many people and businesses that have kept the league going. The league is composed of six teams sponsored, managed and coached by the following: Gulf National Bank "Cards," Rowe Crowder and Randy McIver; American Legion "Mets," Jerry Seuzeneau; Merchants Bank "Expos," Mike Hamm and Mr. Thomas; Riemanns "Stars," Rickey Geoffrey, Bobby Summers and A. J. Geoffrey; Our Shopping Center "Cubs," Lucien Kidd; and the Hancock Bank "Lions," Ronnie Artigues and John Rossetti.

The league started with a triple header Saturday, their regular scheduled games are on Monday, Wednesdays and Thursdays with double headers at McDonald field. Games start at 5:30 p.m. Results of the first games were:

Gulf National Bank 14 - Merchants Bank 4.
In the opening game of the 1977 Little League Season Rowe Crowder pitched the Gulf National Bank Cards to a 14 to 4 win over the Merchants Bank Expos. The Cards backed up their strong pitching with a 12 hit attack. The Cards were led by Greg Williams who was 3 for 3 and David McIver who had two hits. Scott Adam took the loss for the Expos.

American Legion 13 - Our Shopping Center 10
Defending Little League Champions American Legion opened their season with a hard earned 13 to 10 win over Our Shopping Center. The game was highlighted by 29 walks which provided for most of the runs in the game. Leroy Reed pitched a hit for the Legion and also led his team with 2 hits. Ames Kergosien got the only hit for the Cubs.

Reimann's 17 - Hancock Bank 7
Shawn Henderson allowed Hancock Bank only 4 hits in leading Reimann's to a 10 run victory Saturday. Reimann's hitting was led by Mike Lader who had two hits in four trips to the plate. T. J. Favre took the loss for Hancock.

THE PARADE that led to the opening of the 1977 Little League Baseball season winds through the streets of Bay St. Louis last Saturday.

FIRST PITCH for the Bay St. Louis Little League is delivered by Hancock County Board of Supervisor President, A. A. Dolph Kellar.

UNIFORMED UMPIRES for the Bay St. Louis Little League are brothers Ronnie and Kenny Murray.

FUTURE LITTLE LEAGUER Michael James is held by his great-grandmother Mrs. Mae Tudury at Little League Ball Park Saturday.

OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION CITIES OF

BAY ST. LOUIS AND WAVELAND
WHEREAS: We have been endowed by our Creator not only with the blessings and benefits of our animal friends, who provide us clothing, food and pleasure in life, but also with a firm responsibility to protect the dumb creatures given us as sacred trust, and to show kindness and mercy to them in all of our affairs and

WHEREAS: the people in the Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland are deeply indebted to the animal anti-cruelty control and welfare agencies for the invaluable contribution they make each year in educating our children in humane principles, and in promoting a true working spirit of kindness and consideration for animals in the minds and hearts of all our people, and

WHEREAS: we recognize the timeless value of the teaching of kindness to our young people through humane education, and realize that out of kindness to dumb creatures grows kindness and love for both Man and God, and

WHEREAS: the fourth full week of May has been set as the annual celebration of the national week observing the philosophy of kindness to animals,

NOW, THEREFORE: We, John Longo-Warren Carver by virtue of the power vested in us as Mayors of Bay St. Louis and Waveland do proclaim and pronounce the week of May 22-28 as "Be Kind to Animals Week," and do heartily commend to all our citizens a full participation in all the events related thereto in this community.

being "dangerous." The other two were considered to be a lesser threat to the community but still to be approached with caution.

The four prisoners who escaped are: Jimmy Sullivan, born 7-1-53, age 20, height 5 ft. 6 ins., 150 lbs., brown short hair, Rt. 3, Box 305, Bay St. Louis, serving four years for rape and jailbreak;

John A. Butler, born 7-1-55, age 21, height 5 ft. 8 ins., 130 pounds, light blond hair - short, Social Security No. 433-02-4373, Camilla Trailer Park, Bay St. Louis; serving 10 years on five counts of burglary, one count of armed robbery, and jail break;

William Dwight Hendricks, alias Dwight McIntyre, born 6-24-54, age 22, weight 185 lbs., height 6 ft. 2 ins., green eyes, brown hair, 2015 Howell Ave., Mobile, Ala., serving 7 years for burglary and parole violation;

Robert Odell Bennett, Jr., born 8-16-53, age 23, height 6 ft. 2 ins., 210 pounds, hazel eyes, light brown hair, serving 20 years on 14 counts of burglary in Hancock County, 10 counts of burglary in Harrison County, jail break, assault on an officer, armed robbery.

Officers said yesterday that at least three hack saw blades were found in the empty cell following discovery of the break. The blades, they said, must have been smuggled in by visitors or passed through the mesh on the downstairs portion of the jail.

In either event, they indicated, it clearly points to outside help, a factor evidently lacking in the first jail break by Butler, Bennett, and Sullivan.

The tabulations were certified Wednesday by the Municipal Democratic Executive Committee, G.F. Stevenson, S.P. Murphy, and C.C. McDonald, Jr.

Bennett, a restaurant operator, was elected finance commissioner late last year to fill the unexpired term of Clarence Ladner who resigned to accept a position with the state.

Following the verification of returns Bennett said he was pleased with the result but urged his supporters to remember that the general election still lies ahead.

"I would like to thank everyone for putting this much faith into me by giving me the votes they did."

"Now we must hang in there and keep plugging for the general election in June," he said.

Carver was trusting to win his fourth term as mayor. Following the election result finalization he said, "The majority has spoken but I must add that I would have liked to have been a part of this new government."

Carver has long advocated for change from the commission council form of government, a decision emphasized by the repeated defeat of many of his motions in council by 2-1, with both commissioners voting against him.

The new mayor-council government will take office in July, the month following the general election.

City Hall said Wednesday that absentee ballots for that election will be ready Monday.

Persons having already completed application for absentee ballots for the primary elections will not have to re-apply but must follow the regular procedure for obtaining the ballot.

In compliance with the law City Hall will remain open for the two Saturdays preceding the election May 28, and June 4.

Two Independent candidates had qualified to run for mayor, Elliott and Burton D. (Flip) Johnson.

Johnson announced yesterday that he was withdrawing from the race leaving just Elliott and Bennett to square off for the slot.

Q - Both my neighbor and I are 100 per cent service-connected disabled. He and his wife receive $785 from the VA each month. Why do my wife and I only get $750?

responsibilities of the supervisors versus those of the school board who hold final veto powers on all leases.

Kellar asked the superintendent if he had been collecting $25 per year from some homestead leases in the Pearlinton area that were in effect only due to pay $10.

Randolph replied that such collection had only been made on a voluntary basis where the leaseholder had "agreed to pay."

Kellar responded that such collection was "...not his understanding..." indicating the leases had been altered before expiration.

The superintendent said it was necessary to keep asking, "Who is to benefit... the lessee or the student...?" "I want to resolve this issue," Randolph said.

Kellar asked Randolph if he would take his proposals to the school board for their approval prior to asking the supervisors to render judgment. Randolph allowed he would concur to this request.

The question of Sixteenth Section and Lieue Land leases have been a controversial issue over the years, particularly in Hancock County where large tracts have persistently been leased for practically no income to the school system. Too, issue has been taken with the continuing practice of awarding extensive term length to the leases with some now on the books not expiring until 2001.

Under the Randolph proposals the county would engage in four types of leases as well as enter into timberland agreements.

Randolph prefaced his proposals by saying, "The statutes and laws of Mississippi shall in all events be the paramount consideration and the controlling factor in the leasing of Sixteenth Section lands."

"In addition to the authority and requirements of law, the policies hereinafter contained, not inconsistent with applicable law, shall be followed."

"In the event of conflict, the prevailing law shall control."

Under the Randolph proposal, an agricultural lease is to be applied against property "...sited for row crop farming or pasture on which there is not a homestead..."

Randolph said the lease should be awarded on the basis of competitive bids, with the proviso that the existing leaseholder shall have the option of meeting the highest bid and retaining the use of the property.

"The term of the lease shall be for five years," Randolph said.

The second type of lease would be a homestead lease, and would be applied against property not to exceed five acres.

With the term of agreement suggested at 25 years, with an option to renew, Randolph's proposal suggests...

"This type of property shall be appraised exclusive of any buildings or improvements. Leaseholders may renew the lease based on six percent of the appraised market value."

He allowed that appraisals would be made on all homesteads upon renewal.

The other two types of leases suggested were: industrial or commercial, and recreational.

Under the first of these two categories, the land again would be subject to appraisal and would be leased at six percent of fair market value for a maximum term of 25 years.

The recreational type lease is one made between the supervisors and the school board for such facilities as community center and ball park construction.

Forestry lands, administered for the school system by the state forestry commission, cannot be leased and all monies realized from the sale of such timber less a small "...replanting, fire lane maintenance fee, and the like."

As with former requests before both his board and the supervisors, Randolph was challenged repeatedly on the responsibility of one board to the other in the leasing matter.

Randolph indicated it is the board of supervisors who should set policies for him to follow. The board of education simply rule on the lease and exercise veto power should they decide such is necessary.

Ope such issue was broached by Delmar Wilcox of Waveland who asked the county legislators to consider calling a meeting of all contractors within the county to explain the ramifications of the new Flood Plain Act.

Wilcox said that he, as an electrical contractor, had been called to install a new electrical system at a trailer site only to hear the customer say they had been informed by the utility company of the necessity to produce a ad velorum tax receipt before hook-up could be made.

George Heitzmann, county tax assessor and collector, said he thought the utility company was "...jumping the gun..."

"The Special Mobile Home Act becomes effective at the beginning of the state's fiscal year, Oct. 1."

Heitzmann said that after Oct. 1, 1977, when a trailer is put on land owned by the taxpayer then taxes can be assessed against the property - similar to any other real estate tax assessment.

Where such is not the case, the owner must come to the courthouse, register the trailer, and pay taxes before the utilities can be supplied.

He said that effective June 16, all trailers coming into the county must be elevated to a height of 13.1 feet to comply with the federal flood insurance requirements.

Wilcox said considerable confusion and misunderstanding exists and asked again that the meeting be called and further that such be advertised well in advance.

The tax assessor said copies of the new regulations had been forwarded contractors in the county so all should be advised of the situation.

Supervisors agreed to ask John Scaffie, III, the County Planning Commission attorney regarding the feasibility of such a meeting.

Doyle Moffett, executive director, Harrison County Community Action Program (CAP), called on the supervisors to authorize his office to act on behalf of Hancock County in matters concerning funds available under the Emergency Energy Act.

Here, CAP will identify persons in low income groups qualifying under the program to receive assistance in payment of utility bills caused by last winter's unusually heavy and cold weather.

Moffett said the money is a one time grant.

He said the Governor has requested his agency to expand into other counties to disburse the funds which amount to some $100 to 200,000 - all to be distributed within an eight week period.

In another government funding measure supervisors entered into contract with Burk and Associates of New Orleans for them to make application on behalf of the county for impact funds.

Farm weather

The mid-May to mid-June weather outlook calls for near normal rainfall and temperatures in north Mississippi and slightly below normal rainfall and temperatures in south Mississippi, according to the National Weather Service outlook distributed by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Rainfall over the next 30 days should range from about 3.5 inches in the north to more than 4.5 inches along the coast, with temperatures ranging in the seventies. Afternoon readings in the nineties will be common by mid-June.

Dry soils have delayed completion of cotton planting and have slowed work on putting in beans, say the agronomists at the Environmental Studies Service Center in Stoneville, who prepare agricultural weather outlooks. The near to slightly-above normal rainfall should remedy this situation, they add. A lack of extreme temperatures will promote good development of cotton, beans and rice once adequate moisture is received.

Rain is needed to help fill small grains, but no major weather-related problems are foreseen once harvesting begins. Poultrymen can count on occasional heat stress problems and should make certain ventilation systems are functioning properly.

Dry conditions are slowing hay and pasture growth, but good production can be expected over the next 30 days. Harvesting may be more difficult than usual for this time of the year in south Mississippi, say the weather experts.

County Agent's report

BY JOHN W. SMITH

STEAKING TOMATOES
Staking tomato plants correctly can increase production. When staking tomato plants, be sure to place the stake on the side of the stem opposite the flower cluster. This prevents the fruit from being squeezed between the plant and the stake. When tying plants to the stake, place the tie immediately above the flower, rather than below it. This prevents the clusters of fruit from being torn from the plant as they develop. (Source: Dr. Milo Burnham).

CONTROL HOG LICE

External parasites can take a sizable chunk of hog profits, unless they are controlled. Lice are among the most common external parasites of hogs. These small, bluish gray, blood sucking insects can kill hogs if allowed to go uncontrolled. It's important to treat animals if you find lice around their ears and underside of legs. Treat infested animals with a recommended dust or spray. Spray or dust bedding, hog houses and pens at the same time you treat the animals to prevent reinfestation. Contact your county Extension Service office for recommended insecticides. (Source: Dr. James Shannon.)

TERMITES

Both winged ants and termites swarm around homes this time of year. Many people mistakenly identify the winged ant, which is relatively harmless, for the destructive termite. There are two ways to tell these two insects apart. First, ants have a constricted or "pinched in" waistline. Second, the rear pair of wings of an ant is considerably smaller than the front wings. There is little difference in the size of the front and rear wings of termites.

If you determine that you have termites in your home, contact your local county Extension office, or consult a reputable pest control operator in your area. (Source: James Cochran)

APRIL SOYBEAN PLANTING

QUESTIONABLE

Normally, the chances for top soybean yield are greater with May plantings than if planted earlier. Soil temperature and day length are two important reasons for this response. Even though soil temperatures can reach a favorable minimum of 68 to 70 degrees during April, the day length may not be ideal until later. Since short days tend to cause early flowering of soybeans, early planting often results in shorter plants and lower yield.

For the area north of Highway 84, the varieties Hill and Davis may be less adversely affected than others by planting April 20-30. For the southern one-third of the state, day length isn't considered satisfactory until mid-May. Producers that decide to plant in early May should consider Davis, Tracy or Bragg. (Source: Dr. Wayne Jordan)

PREPARING PASTURES

Time and effort put into land preparations of pastures is well spent. Poorly prepared or rough pasture seedbeds can cause trouble for several years. To prevent this, disk or plow the seedbed thoroughly to get out the rough spots and leave the surface level enough to be easily mowed. Use a cultipacker to firm the soil.

Add necessary phosphate and potash during soil preparation. Apply nitrogen at planting time; adding it earlier only encourages weeds to complete with grass. If the soil is too acid, work in enough lime to bring the pH to about 6.2. Seed pasture grasses by June 1 if possible. This reduces the chance of too little moisture in the summer, thus limiting the establishment of a good stand. (Source: Dr. Hiram Palmer) on the side

BY BUDDY STONE

Top of the day to all you CB'ers. Did you know that a CB'er operating a unit near a radar, can throw the radar reading off by about 15 mph? Well it's true a CB being operated near or close to it can throw it off. So, what do we tell the highway patrol when they stop us?

When you are getting a radio check and someone replies, your breaking up, well this could be caused by a faulty antenna ground. So when someone says, your breaking up, check the ground first.

By 1980, Experts have predicted that CB sales will grow 30 per cent and boy do I believe it!

ZZZ...Breaker 19 for that sweet lips...ZZZ...Do you copy?...ZZZ...I'll catch you on the flip flop at your home 20... This is Duddy Poe...ZZZ...10-7 on this 10...zzz.

As summer descends on us the highways seem to get more crowded and we can't do a thing about it, but maybe this summer the FCC will crack down on the misusers and do us a favor for once.

Did you know to this day there are over 448 different CB units on the market? Well they are and just about every one has a different model.

WHAT IS A CB

It's a Citizen's band radio, and all the rulings we should know. It can be such a wonderful thing, and lots of pleasure it can bring. So good CB'ers lets be fair.

Not to jam the channels of the air. Helpful in time of emergency.

If we use it right, this wonderful CB. Let us resolve not to jam the air.

Is all good CB'ers fervent prayer. Know all the rules - Observe them too.

Each one must help - this you can do. What is a Citizen's Band radio?

That's what so many really don't know. They think of it as just a toy, and deprive many of its real joy. You should limit your time on the air, Remember many others want to share. Their message and thoughts with a CB friend.

We are all CB neighbors. So lets also be friends.

Home Economist notes

By NORINE BARNES,
Extension Home
Economist

THE PARENTAL IMAGE

The parents we are greatly depends on our attitudes toward our own parents. If we think our parents raised us well, we are probably handling our children similarly. If we disagree with some practices of our parents, we may be making an effort to act differently. Or, we may find ourselves unintentionally treating our children the way we were treated.

However, we perform as a parent, we probably are trying to imitate, please, defy or outdo our own parents. Recognizing this point, and understanding it as a motive for some of our actions, is important. If we understand the reason for a certain action, it may be easier to change or modify it.

One example of this situation can be seen in the mother who preoccupies herself with her children at the expense of activities with other adults. Often a mother does this because she feels her parents didn't pay her enough attention. Perhaps there were problems with her childhood, but she is not correcting them by going overboard in the opposite direction. Recognizing the reason for her action, she may be able to eliminate overpreoccupation.

THE ART OF LISTENING

Misunderstandings between parents and children often occur because neither generation listens to the other. Listening is an important part of communication, and it does not always come naturally.

Children can be taught to listen. If a child is to listen, you must first get his attention. Touch him before you speak, or call him by name. Speak in a quiet voice, even whisper sometimes, so he'll have to listen. Children think whispering is fun, so make a game of it.

When talking to a child, look him in the eye to see if he understands. Looking eye to eye is also a part of paying attention and listening.

Parents must listen to their children, too. What a child says is important to him, and it makes him feel good to have someone listen. Listening to a child helps him develop confidence and a good self opinion.
